FIFTY-FIRST CONGRESS.
MONDAY, Sept. 29.—The conference report on the tariff bill was discussed in the Senate, but no action was taken. The conference report on the deficiency bill (H. R. 10,000) was agreed to. A bill was introduced to provide for the payment of arrears of pensions on applications filed since July 1, 1881. In the House the conference report on the deficiency bill was agreed to. Bills were passed extending for one year the time for the payment of salaries on public lands in cases of drought and to prevent the destruction of the United States flag by the printing thereon of any painting or advertisement.
TUESDAY, Sept. 30.—The conference report on the tariff bill was discussed in the Senate by a vote of 25 to 27. In the House a joint resolution was passed appropriating $100,000 to enable the Postmaster-General to test at small towns and villages the system of free delivery. The Senate bill was passed establishing a customs collection district in the States of North and South Dakota.

WEDNESDAY, Oct. 1.—In the Senate the tariff bill, amended, was received from the House with the Speaker's signature, and it was immediately signed by the Vice-President and sent to the President. Mr. Morison then thanked the Senate for their uniform kindness to him and declared the Senate adjourned sine die. In the House the resignation of James L. Wheat, assistant master of the House, was received and accepted. A Senate concurrent resolution was agreed to requesting the President to enter into negotiations with the governments of Great Britain and Mexico for the prevention of the entry of Chinese laborers into the United States. Speaker Reed then declared the first session of the Fifty-first Congress adjourned without day.

A CITY LUXURY.

Just as the city looks to the country for most of the luxuries used on its tables, so the country must turn to the city for those conveniences which are justly termed luxuries for the hard-working housewife. City housekeepers have learned to realize that to save time is to lengthen life.

SAPOLIO!

is one of the best known city luxuries and each time a cake is used an hour is saved. On floors, tables and painted work it acts like a charm. For scouring pots, pans and metals it has no equal. IF YOUR STOREKEEPER DOES NOT KEEP IT YOU SHOULD INSIST UPON HIS DOING SO, as it always gives satisfaction and its immense sale all over the United States makes it an almost necessary article to any well-supplied store. Everything shines after its use, and even the children delight in using it in their attempts to help around the house.
